DISTRICT ATTORNEY

1500 Sansom Street, 4th Floor | Philadelphia, PA 19102 | 1-888-Seth4DA

January 2, 2009

Happy New Year!

Now that 2009 is upon us, my campaign to become Philadelphia's next District Attorney is beginning in earnest. I've already announced my candidacy and found great support in every corner of the City, but as you and I both know, there's so much more to do. I hope I can count on your continued support.

The next big campaign event is the official opening of my campaign headquarters on Monday, January 5th at 1500 Sansom Street – the same location Barack Obama had as his Pennsylvania headquarters and where Ed Rendell's campaign was based in 2002. It will be an opportunity for supporters and friends to meet, talk about the best ways for me to win in May, and enjoy each other's company. I hope you can make it.

The doors will open at 5:30 pm, and I will address the crowd at 6:30 pm. Refreshments will be provided, and as always, families are welcome!

Again, I hope you had a great holiday and New Year – and I hope to see you on Monday!

Sincerely,

Seth

P.S. Today also happens to be my birthday! A great way for you to help me celebrate is by making a contribution to my campaign.
