Press Release

Wednesday September 2, 2009

North Philadelphia at Broad and Chew 5:00 PM

Democratic Candidate for District Attorney Seth Williams will be speaking at an Education Rally about the importance of scholastic knowledge and how those lessons in the classroom can help keep a person out of jail.

This non political event will focus on the education of all children in the city, regardless of the type of school they are being taught in-public, private, charter, Catholic or at home. Mr. Williams believes this is one of the many ways we can help make Philadelphia a much better place to live, work and raise a family.
