

September 22, 2009

Democratic Nominee For District Attorney Seth Williams Along with Philadelphia Eagle Michael Vick Stressed the Importance of Education to Middle School Students

Philadelphia- Democratic Nominee for District Attorney Seth Williams was pleased to join NFL star Michael Vick today to encourage students to stay in school. As a Philadelphia native Mr. Williams has benefited from the excellent scholastic institutions in the city, and he was honored that Pepper Middle School asked him to share that experience with the students there.

Mr. Williams has seen first hand as an Assistant District Attorney and Inspector General in Philadelphia how quickly the wrong choices can be made by an individual once they drop out of school. "I am proud to say I am a proud of the Philadelphia Public School System," says Seth, "and I want to make sure the students at Pepper Middle School appreciate what a tremendous gift a good education is."

"I was also touched that Mr. Vick was so honest with the kids, admitting his personal failings and challenging the students to make the right decisions," Seth adds, "I think he really made an impression on the kids when Mr. Vick said one of the biggest regrets he has is dropping out of college. By working together we can all get Philly "Back on Track."

To see video coverage of Seth attending this event at Pepper Middle School, log on to CBS 3 Eyewitness News: <http://cbs3.com/video/?id=88029@kyw.dayport.com>